OTHER FORMS OF EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

Schools are being supported to provide opportunities for students to engage in hands-on, real-world learning, also known as Experiential Learning. This authentic learning approach provides opportunities for students to:

- participate in learning experiences connected to a community or industry.
- reflect on those experiences to derive meaning; and then
- apply their learning to influence their decisions and actions in various aspects of their lives, including education and career/life plans.

The experience can involve local, national, or global communities and:

- being physically present (an on-site experience);
- being present using digital tools and technologies (a virtual experience); or
- a combination of the two (a blended experience).

When children and youth are fully engaged in community-connected experiences, they develop:

- a deeper understanding of expectations from the Ontario curriculum and the Kindergarten Program; and
- the skills, knowledge, and work habits to be competent, confident, and effective education and career/life planners.
